I am writing to request an extension on the time to come to a final decision. We were not properly notified and would have a better understanding on the possibilities and what will happen. We do not want to see our forest defaced nor do we want people kicked out of their homes. There are possibilities with underground lines and making developers pay the price in the sales of their homes. On the subject of power, why aren't developers required to provide their own power, by putting solar panels that connect to the Edison grid? Had that option, we would have a custom home builder. That's what this whole project is all about - developing more homes. Please give me some time for a better solution.
