I can't believe any person or government agency (i.e. cewc/us forest service) would consider an alternate route is as a possibility for Edison to build a high tension transmission line instead of the obvious forest service land. I question the ethics and legality of this decision process has come about since the property owners affected by your project wasn't properly notified about the impending project. I thought it was killing in the United States. This is an underhanded and un-American way to take what individuals have worked for their homes. for the line to come through the forest service land. No person would agree to this except the US Forest Service.
