Dear Ms. Mosley

My husband and I moved to Sun Lakes Country Club in Banning in January of 2003. We moved to Banning believing that it was healthier for us to be out of the "maddening crowds" of Orange County, after having lived there for 40 years. We are just concerned for the health and well being of residents with houses adjacent to this easement. Power lines have been buried underground in most new communitites and we implore you to have these lines buried in our community. The environmental report has recommended that the proposed power lines for the one mile through the Sun Lakes Golf Course be placed underground. Every day many golfers may be affected by the potential electrical hazard of these power lines. There has been enough evidence produced indicating that high power utility lines may be a health hazard, and for that reason, these power lines should be placed underground.
