

This alternative view for Key Viewpoint 3 is at a slightly lower elevation and within the residential development area adjacent to the location shown in Figure D.12-3A and D.12-3B (which is within the existing transmission line right-of-way). From this vantage point, the substation would be slightly less visible due to screening by intervening terrain and vegetation. The approximate location of the substation is indicated by the arrows in the image above.

Figure D.12-4C
Key Viewpoint 3 Alternative
New San Timoteo Canyon
Residential Development
Existing View