

Michael Clayton & Associates Transition Station Source: Antelope-Pardee EIR/EIS

A visual simulation of the Buckman Springs Underground Alternative north transition station from Key Viewpoint 57 at the northbound I-8 on-ramp from Buckman Springs Road. This view to the north-northeast captures the north transition station and the aboveground portion of the route as it heads north from the transition station along the east side of Cottonwood Valley. As shown in the simulation, the transition station and transmission structures would introduce substantial industrial character into a landscape that is predominantly natural in appearance.
