Internal program activities

Lodi Gas Storage, L.L.C. has only two operating facilities in California; the main storage site is in San Joaquin County; there is also one in Solano County. Procurement activities are extremely limited there, as the needs of the facility have moved more towards continued operating as opposed to expansion. The required nature of goods has also changed and allowed for increased WMDVLGBTBE percent use. The Gas Storage market tends to be volatile, and thus WMDVLGBTBE spending will also be based on customer demand for Gas Storage use. Due to the limited number of purchases that are made, the employment of a full time procurement specialist is not justified. The Operations Manager and Office Administrator will continue to work on due diligence as far as making the local supply network aware of various materials and service opportunities.

External program activities

Lodi Gas Storage, L.L.C. was a participant at the Small Business Enterprise Expo in Los Angeles in May 2017 and will continue in its efforts to participate in such events, and support other programs related to supplier diversity.
